CONTENT

Do you have a starting level between A2 and B2?

The content of the training follows the language learning e-learning modules. We present 5-6 business cases per language and per level. We can provide you with an overview of the available modules (3/4 per business case) in each business case.

The course consists of 5 to 6 business cases per level. You practise key sentences on the following professional topics, among others:

- Social talk with colleagues/clients/suppliers
- Introducing yourself and your company
- Telephone communication
- Writing professional e-mails
- Giving a presentation
- Participating in a meeting
- Leading a team

Each module contains 40 hours of practice time. This implies: if you complete each business case once and do all the exercises on it, you will need 40 hours. So, you decide which exercises you want to do, and which exercises you want to repeat several times.

This package includes 2 hours of coaching. You schedule a session whenever you feel it is necessary. Sessions of 15 minutes to 1 hour are possible.

You can schedule a short session with the coach from time to time to ask questions so that you can resume learning on your own. The coach will advise you on which modules are most relevant to you and help you to put what you have learnt into practice by giving you tips on how to use the language on the job.
